The North-West.

News Culled for The Progress by our own correspondents.

BROADVIEW.

—Joseph Clementson, J. P., has taken up his abode in his own house after boarding out for a long time. We wish him a happy home.

—The Billiard Hall and 4 per cent. are still occupying the attention of some of our young men and some others, when they would be as well in bed.

—We are glad to see the Rev. W. Nichol returned safe and sound from his trip to the old country. He reports favorable prospects for the farming community there.

—Miss Wallace, our public school teacher, has sent in her resignation through ill health and the trustees will have some difficulty in filling up the gap till the end of her term, Oct. 31st, as teachers are all busy during the summer months.

—Mr. Stephenson, our respected C. P. R. agent here, has got his office changed to the other end of the station platform from where it has been of late. This is really the old stand and affords much better accommodation than that lately occupied. The reading room and library is moved to the old office and waiting room.

—Mr. Robert W. Bird, C. P. R. conductor, was joined in the bonds of holy wedlock to Miss Dora Matilda Guest of the Wood Hills, on the 11th inst. Rev. W. Nichol, of Broadview, tying the nuptial knot. It is an unusual season of the year for a "bird" to seek a mate, but we presume he is securing a "guest" for the winter.

CALGARY.

On Friday of last week when a Stony Indian was making hay about a mile southwest of Calgary, he saw a prairie fire start, and upon going to put it out was fired at. The bullet passed close to his head, cutting off some hair and knocking him off his horse. He returned and rode to camp. A party of Indians, supposed to be Bloods, were seen taking away horses, which are supposed to be stolen. As the Stonies have lost several of theirs it is supposed the Bloods started the fire to cover their tracks. The mounted police with a posse of Indians have started in pursuit.

ON THE SURFACE.

Skin diseases appear on the surface and are often humiliating to the sufferer from them. From two to three bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters will cure salt rheum, erysipelas, shingles, tetter, little reds, eczema, boils, pimples, or blotches, at the same time restoring the general health.

YORKTON.

—Heavy prairie fires are burning to the west and north of here, but it is hoped that the heavy shower of last night will have checked, if not extinguished them, for were the prairie to be burned now, cattle would have a hard time this fall.

—Friday, the 20th inst., has been fixed for the picnic of the Yorkton and Orkney schools. A very pretty spot has been chosen on Mr. James Carson's farm on the banks of the White Sand River, and should the weather not disappoint an enjoyable day is anticipated.

—A band of bronchos has arrived here from out west. They are hardly the stamp of horse that is wanted here, the average farmer preferring a beast that can be put right to work. Added to that their long journey has brought them down in condition, so that they have not met with so ready a sale as the owner might have liked.

—There was great excitement last Saturday on the arrival of the news that grading was to be commenced on the M. & N.W. Ry. this week. Settlers were almost giving up hope that there would be any extension this year, but were agreeably surprised and reassured by Saturday's news, which, among other things, means work for idle teams and the earning of a few of those things called dollars, which one always finds so useful.

BATTLEFORD.

Saskatchewan Herald.
—Basil Lafonde had two of his fingers cut the other day with a mower knife that he was helping W. Latimer to adjust.

—The sixty acre strip of land alongside of the townsite for which tenders were asked a few weeks ago has been awarded to J. M. Skelton for $3 25 an acre. And now there are plenty who mournfully say, "if I had known."

—On Friday forenoon about five tons of hay in E. Brunel's yard up town were burned, and fortunately the flames were confined to the hay stack, as there were many buildings close by. The fire was started by Mr. Brunel's son playing with matches and indulging in a desire to see if the hay would burn.

—The great fire in the Eagle Hills last week caught S. Warden's hay yard and destroyed thirty tons of hay that he had put up. It also burned a large quantity of fencing and came very near taking his house and outbuildings. The fire also ran up to the fire-guard around a stack of over 100 tons belonging to Macfarlane Bros., but did not cross it.

—The creamery to be established at Swift Current by Sir John Lister Kaye will use the milk of the 500 cows already on the several farms of his company, which number will steadily be added to. The milk will be shipped from the ten farms along the railway once every twenty-four hours. The establishment will be of concrete, and is expected to be in operation in October. Sir John's example is likely to be followed by other ranchers.

EDMONTON.

From The Bulletin.

—F. Fletcher, land examiner of the C.P.R., left on Tuesday for Beaver lake and Battle river.

—Gordon Cumming, of Calgary, a nephew of the celebrated African hunter of that name will visit Edmonton shortly on his way to Jasper House, where he will spend the winter in hunting.

—D. McLeod leaves for Calgary today accompanied by A. D. Campbell of Glenfield, Dakota, who is returning after a visit to this district with a view to removal here. Mr. Campbell is delighted with the advantages offered by this district to settlers and intends removing here next year. He expects to be accompanied by a number of his present neighbors near Glenfield.

—Arrangements have been completed for the erection of a steam grist mill at St. Albert by Messrs. Geo. Hutton and D. Maloney to be completed by Feb. 1st, 1890. The mill is to start with two run of stones, to be replaced by rollers when required. A bonus of $1,500 is to be received from the Indian department, and a further bonus of $2,000 from the St. Albert and Sturgeon river settlers. The mill will be located on the west side of the Sturgeon, a little north of the bridge, a grant of five acres of land for the purpose having been made by the St. Albert mission authorities. Mr. Maloney went east on Tuesday to purchase the necessary machinery, and work on the buildings will commence at once.

REGINA.

—Fred. Carsoff, conductor on the Long Lake construction train, got severely squeezed Sunday between lumber cars. A French grading outfit from Sherbrooke, Que., owned by Madigan, arrived yesterday and was taken to the end of the track. Strevel's outfit, in two train loads, has arrived and gone out to the work.

ANOTHER SCHOOL.

The Governor's Proclamation erecting the St. Patrick Catholic Separate School District 11, appears in the N.W.T. Gazette of the 15th inst. This is the separate school established in the Prince Albert East Public School District last spring. The Trustees are Charles Byrne, Dennis Bradley and Edward Genevoux.

There are very few Catholic rate-payers in this district, and the total amount of their assessable property, according to the last assessment, roll of the Public School District, was only $1570. The teachers, we are informed, getting a salary of $1,000, 75 per cent. of which is paid by the Government. How the new district is to pay the balance of salary, along with rent, fuel and other incidental expenses, out of a total of $1,070, is a very large problem which these trustees will have to solve. The total amount they can collect in taxes being only $1570.

There is something wrong in a school ordinance that allows the establishment of a school where there is no possibility of its being able to pay expenses, as in such case there is a great inducement to commit a fraud on the government by using the grant towards the teachers' salary to pay all expenses.—The Saskatchewan.

The insidious manner in which Church interests are promoted is illustrated by an incident reported from Kingston, N. Y. There are Public Schools in the town; but over one of these the Roman Catholic clergy have gradually acquired control. The institution is now managed by the Church and is officered by Franciscan Brothers, who teach Catholics and Protestants alike Catholic doctrines. Of late the Protestants have awakened to the nature of the instruction given their children, and have demanded the withdrawal of the Brothers and the abandonment of the catechism, together with the Lives of the Saints. The struggle is still pending, and meanwhile the priest has declared from the altar that those Catholics—and they appear to be not a few—who favor the nationalization of the school are enemies of the Church, and will ere long be treated as such. A New York paper says: "It is high time that the American people awoke to a realization of the importance of defending their schools against Roman Catholic aggression."—The Mail.

In the trial of Deputy Marshall Nagle, for the killing of ex-Judge Terry, testimony was adduced showing that Terry habitually went armed, and indulged in violent acts. Justice Field testified: "Deputy Nagle and myself entered the dining-room at Lathrop for breakfast, and soon after taking our seats Judge Terry and his wife entered. As they passed down the aisle Mrs. Terry glanced at me for a moment and then turned about and left the place. Judge Terry seated himself but arose immediately and came toward me. Before realizing what he intended to do I felt a powerful blow on my cheek. I turned around and saw Terry's great form towering over me with his clenched fist upraised. I then heard Nagle say: 'Stop; I am an officer.' I then heard two pistol shots in quick succession and saw Terry fall to the floor. I was dazed for a moment, but soon realized that Terry had received a death wound, and arose and left the room. Justice Field further testified that he believed that if Nagle had not shot Terry, he (Field) would have been dead within the next five seconds. The expression of Terry's face when he raised his hand to strike a second blow could not be mistaken. It was full of malice and murder. Justice Field declared that he never had any difficulty with Terry prior to the Sharon decision a year ago. They had been on most friendly terms, Terry had often tried cases before him, and on entering the court had always spoken pleasantly. During the last year or two, however, he seemed to have entirely changed, and to have lost his respect for the courts. Justice Field added that the story of his having asked Terry to support him for President some years ago was fictitious. Justice Field was not cross-examined.

"The Province of Quebec will one day be the France of America," is what Colonel Rhodes is reported to have said at a recent speech. At this L'Electeur says it soothes the heart to hear "a son of noble Albion uttering such sentiments." Many another son of noble Albion has been making a precisely similar statement of late, though he generally adds: "if we don't look out. Now, at the expense of failing to soothe the L'Electeur, as Col. Rhodes has been so successful in doing—though this report of his words may not soothe every elector with whom he has to do—we have to remark that Canada is not going to be a new France or a new England or a new Ireland. What it sadly needs is to be a new Canada, whose citizens will be loyal Canadians and not plotters of secession—citizens whose Canadian citizenship will, as in Switzerland, rise above their race differences and their provincial interests. We can imagine the people of Megantic who do not make much fuss, but whose feelings lie as deep as those of any people in Canada, talking over this theory about the land which they and their fathers had redeemed from the wilderness, becoming part of a new France, and making pretty strong resolutions that unless Col. Rhodes can show that L'Electeur has misrepresented him, he will not again be put in a position to misrepresent them.—Montreal Witness.

Little by little the German army is being increased. Since the opening of the year four corps have been added and now the Emperor has given orders for the formation of a fifth with headquarters at Bromberg on the eastern frontier. This move is evidently intended as a reply to Russia, who continues to mass her troops on the western frontier, and in this way William serves notice upon the Czar that he does not intend to be caught napping. German press comments upon this latest move of the Emperor are full of significance. It is pointed out that, contrary to the usual custom in such cases, there is no attempt at concealment. The Emperor seems to have taken special pains to give the fullest possible publicity to his plan to mass a formidable force on the Russian frontier, and this the German press accept as a note of defiance. The more sensational of Berlin papers go so far as to say that this indicates a determination on the part of the Emperor to force Russia's hand. Should Russia reply by further increasing her force on the German and Austrian line as is confidently expected, a crisis will be precipitated before the end of the year.

FOUR NEW STATES.

South Dakota, North Dakota, Montana and Washington.

On February 22, 1889, the President signed the bill creating South Dakota, North Dakota, Montana, and Washington states of the Union.

South Dakota.—The great Prairie State, to which the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway has three main lines, reaching Ellendale, Aberdeen, Huron, Watertown, and Sioux Falls. Go to South Dakota via the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway and pass through St. Paul and Minneapolis en route.

North Dakota.—Where is grown No. 1 Hard Scotch Flax, wheat, whose beautiful climate nurtures the most vigorous and brandy civilization on earth; where single counties raise more wheat, oats and barley, than entire states; the soil of whose fertility praises is richer than the valley of the Nile; where the Turtle Mountain, Mount Devil's Lake and districts invite the home seeker to secure a free home. Magnificent daily train service to Fargo, Grand Forks, Grafton, Devils Lake, Bismarck, and all other important points.

Minnesota, the golden state—Treasures in her mines of precious metals; wealth in her 4,000,000 head of live stock; profit in her fertile fields, producing a larger yield of crops than any other state or territory;
the richest country for subsistence on earth
where property is abundantly and cheaply the best paid labor in the world; a balmy winter climate, caused by warm winds from the Pacific. The St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway is the only road passing through a continuous unbroken country from St. Paul and Minneapolis to the Rocky Mountains. It runs through the Great Exposition of 18,000,000 acres of land, free to settlers, in the Milk River Valley. Wood, water, and coal in abundance; no irrigation required; the only line passing through Great Falls; with its 1,000,000 horse-power cataracts; immense coal veins, and surrounding farming country of free land;
through Helena, the capital city and commercial centre of Montana, and route, the richest mining country on earth, to Sun-Bonnie by the Columbia River Valley, Horland and Sunset Route, or Ogden, Utah, to California points. Remember this is the only line running dining cars, sleeping cars, and free colonist sheets of its own from St. Paul and Minneapolis to Great Falls, Helena and Butte. It is also the shortest line to Butte.

Washington.—The country of tall timber indented by Puget Sound, the Mediterranean of the Pacific. Do not forget that the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway is the only line which offers a choice of three routes to the Pacific coast. The Manitoba Pacific route is the only line by which passengers en route for Tacoma, Portland and San Francisco can pass through Port Townsend and Seattle. Free colonist sleepers en route without change of cars. Instance to the Pacific Coast is same as by other lines but prices of tickets are five and ten dollars less. Take the Seattle route.

the four new states, write or apply to E. I.

Sunday School Lessons.

In this country where settlement is so general and may have not frequent opportunities of attending public worship, our Bible Lessons will be a great help to the study of one set portion of Scripture for each Sunday. The heart of the family should collect its members around him and, if possible, sing some hymn and offer prayer, then read the portion of Scripture set for the day, take up each verse and try to induce each member of the family to talk about it and ask questions. The comments on the lesson will help to make the study more interesting and be valuable to aid in answering questions. This should not, however, be allowed to interfere with opportunities to attend to preaching services as frequently as possible. To the regular Sunday school teacher and scholar our Bible study column commends itself by experience.

THE LAST DAYS OF SAUL.

LESSON XII, THIRD QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, SEPT. 22.

Text of the Lesson, 1 Sam. xxxi, 1-13—Comment Verse 4, 6—Golden Text, Ps. xxviii, 16—Commentary by the Rev. D. M. McNamee.

(Compiled from Lesson Helper Quarterly by permission of H. J. Hoffman, publisher, Philadelphia.)

When David again had Saul in his power, after the time recorded in the last lesson, and Abishai wanted to slay him, David refused again to touch the Lord's anointed, and said: "The Lord shall smite him, or his day shall come to die, or he shall descend into battle and perish." The last of these predictions is fulfilled in the lesson of today. The events between the last lesson and this are: The death of Samuel, the death of Nabal, upon whom David was restrained from taking vengeance, David marries Abigail and Ahinoam; he spares Saul a second time; he goes to the Philistines and lives at Gath; Saul again disobeys God by consulting the witch of Endor; David's town of Ziklag is smitten during his absence with his six hundred, and women, children and flocks all carried captive, but David pursues and recovers all.

1. "Now the Philistines fought against Israel and the men of Israel fled from before the Philistines." This was the battle to which David and his men had started, when they were sent back by the lords of the Philistines only to find Ziklag desolate and burned with fire. God again hindered David from having anything to do with the death of Saul.

2. "The Philistines slew Jonathan, and Abinadab, and Melchishua, Saul's sons." It makes one's heart ache to read this, especially concerning Jonathan, the loving, the brave, the noble. How David lamented for him is recorded in the next chapter, and we do not wonder at the depth of his lamentations over one whose soul was knit with his own, but we do wonder when we read that it was a lamentation over Saul as well as Jonathan. (1 Sam. l, 17). The secret of it is that David saw not the man Saul, his enemy, but he saw the king Saul, the anointed of the Lord.

3. "The battle went sore against Saul, and the archers hit him." He was no longer in merciful hands, but in the hands of those who knew no mercy. Long suffering and mercy had followed him many years, he had been spared many a time and warned often, but "the time being often reproved, hardeneth his neck, shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy," and now mercy is past for him and judgment has reached him.

4. "Therefore Saul took a sword and fell upon it." Saul being sore wounded asked his armor bearer to slay him, but notice the reason, "lest these uncircumcised come and thrust me through and abuse me." What a fear he has of being dishonored by these uncircumcised, what a keen sense of honor, but it is the old story as when he pleaded with Samuel, "Honor me now before the elders of my people and before Israel" (1 Sam. xv, 30).

5. "His armor bearer . . . fell like upon his sword and died with him." This looks heroic and like a spirit of devotion to his master, but had he been devoted to God instead of to Saul, or more devoted to God than to Saul, he would not have done so. No man who fears God will take his own life, and any one who believes God concerning the awful future of the ungodly as revealed in Scripture could not think of rushing madly into it.

6. "So Saul died, and his three sons, and his armor bearer, and all his men, that same day together." What thought! The words of the last lesson, in Luke xv, and other words of the Spirit plainly recorded in Scripture, teach us that if we believe God and are redeemed by the precious blood of His dear Son, "he is gain," to depart and be with Christ is far better, and when the spirit leaves the body, our conscious personal life continues, and the angels guide or carry us to perfect bliss in His presence. But if we die in our sins and disobedience, it is equally plain that the portion of such, while also personally conscious, is darkness, torment, gnashing of teeth and fearful looking for of judgment.

7. "Israel . . . forsook the cities and God, and the Philistines came and dwelt in them." Here is not only the defeat and slaughter of the Lord's people Israel, but their possessions, which they ought to have kept and enjoyed, are possessed by their enemies. This is sad, indeed, and the only reason is that the people of God had turned their backs upon Him.

8. "The Philistines came to strip the slain." The deliverers of God cannot do enough to show their hatred of Him and His professed followers. It is the devil who possesses them and who is called truly a destroyer.

9. "They cut off his head and stripped off his armor, and sent . . . to publish it . . . among the people." Thus what Saul feared came upon him, and these uncircumcised Philistines abused his body. But worst of all it was published abroad among those abominable defilers of the living and True God. When one who bears the name of Jesus in any way overcomes by the world, the flesh, or the devil, that Holy Name is blasphemed and thus dishonored by the sin thus committed, and not only are such Christians if they are Christians, laughed at and despised by the world, but the precious name they bear, instead of being exalted, is also placed also on their account. Our great business in this world is to magnify that beautiful name by which we are called, and to show forth the praises of Him who hath called us from darkness into His marvelous light, not seeking our will or our glory, but, denying self, follow Jesus and go about doing good.

10. "They put his armor in the house of Achish, and they fastened his body to the wall of Bethshan." What a victory for the Philistines, but it will not continue. Blessed be God that all the victories of His enemies are only for a little time, but the victory of His dear Son is for eternity. This is probably the same armor with which Saul armed David that day when he was about to go forth against Goliath. David put it off, for he had not proved it, and Saul might as well have had it off, for it did him no good. There is an armor which will never get into any Philistine's hands. It is the shield of faith and sword of the Spirit, and helmet of salvation. (Eph. vi.) May we each wear it and use it constantly. Let us put on the whole armor of God, for it is an evil day and many are falling. Never for a moment in our own strength, but strong in the Lord and in the power of His might.

11. "The inhabitants of Jabesh Gilead heard." Thank God for the faithful in all ages who will not tolerate an insult to His name or His people if they can prevent it. He has always had them, has them today, and will have them, a little flock until His body is completed, and then shall the whole earth begin to be filled with them. Elisha thought that in his day he was the only one, but God had 7,000 besides. Today they are in all the earth, a few here and there in all our churches, but oh for more zeal and faithful men even among them, more real devotion Jesus.

12. "All the valiant men arose and went all night." We are not told how many were valiant men, but if it was with them as with the men of Gilead, they were but few; and yet God can do more with 300 like these men than with 3,000, or 30,000, or 300,000 who are half hearted or fearful or afraid.

BEHRING SEA OUTRAGES.

When Alaska was Russian Territory the Russian Government claimed that Behring Sea was closed water over which they assumed to exercise jurisdiction. The United States refused to acknowledge that claim, and in fact placed themselves on record as resenting it. But Alaska was purchased by the United States and now the time they sing is strangely out of discord with their former opposition to Russia's claim. They are exercising jurisdiction over the water of Behring's Sea just as if it were an inland water wholly surrounded by United States territory. But by no known international law can it be claimed to be anything but an open sea. Behring's Strait on the north is 46 miles across, with two very small uninhabited islands between the two points of the continents of Asia and America. The Southern boundary of Behring's Sea is the Aleutian Islands with varying stretches of from 50 to 200 miles of ocean between. It is not a question of distances of three miles from headland to headland, or of the correct interpretation of treaties. The United States' claim of control over the water in question is as absurd as would be a claim that Great Britain might set up to all the Atlantic Ocean north of a line drawn from the south of England to the south of Newfoundland. Great Britain has just as much right to exercise jurisdiction over the English Channel, but should she attempt to do so all Europe would instantly say No! most emphatically with all the ships and men that could be secured. During the season of 1885 the United States' cruiser seized three Canadian sealers in Behring's Sea and confiscated them. Neither the Dominion Government or the Home authorities protested against the high handed procedure. The United States thus finding that they could do as they pleased in those waters have this season boarded 14 vessels and seized six. Hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of seals taken on the high seas by Canadians have been stolen from them under cover of the authority of the United States. Vessel owners have had their property wrongfully taken from them and the British flag has been insulted by an insignificant cruiser that a single British ironclad could have blown to the bottom of the sea in short order. It may be said that we have put the case strongly, but from present appearances it needs to be put strongly. What should have been done last season was to demand reparation from the United States for the outrages then committed, and insisted upon a settlement of the difficulty. This was not done, and the United States have taken it for granted that they can with impunity outrage the rights of Canadians in Behring's Sea. Throughout all Canada there are murmurs of disapproval, but what is the Dominion Government doing to uphold the rights of fellow countrymen. Absolutely nothing, at least the public does know it, and it is high time they did. When the Black Diamond returned to Victoria after being seized, she reported to the Customs officer there. That official no doubt reported to Ottawa immediately after. Just as soon as the report reached there every member of the Government should have instantly been summoned from their holiday-making and an emphatic protest made, and the Imperial Government called upon to protect our citizens and the British flag from outrage and insult. Is our British Government in the hands of weaklings that Britons should be allowed to be injured and insulted with impunity. Does not the Union Jack at the masthead any more command respect on the high seas? Are not these Behring's Sea outrages worse than the forcible taking from a British mail steamer of Messrs. Mason and Shidell, who were not British subjects but only for the time being under the protection of the British flag? Oh for a Wellington, a Palmerston or a Beaconsfield to enforce respect for the British flag and to protect the rights and liberties of Britons! Why are not emphatic demands made for reparation both of the stolen seals and ships and of damage for the loss of time and trade? Why were not gunboats sent to Behring's sea to protect our citizens. Was it not done because we are only colonialists? Are we to understand that a Canadian has not the same right to the protection of the British flag as an Englishman? It is such incidents as these Behring's Sea outrages that grate hard upon the patriotism of the colonialists for the Empire. Are we not all Britons, and should we not all have the same respect for the Union Jack, and have the same rights wherever that standard floats proudly to the breeze?

A fortnight ago the Moosomin Courier threw up the sponge vanquished in the discussion with THE PROGRESS on the Temperance question. Our contemporary said it was senseless twaddle and we had no ground for saying that the wine at the wedding feast in Cana of Galilee, was unfermented and therefore good wine. The editor of the Courier assumes because he has a vitiated taste and chooses to call fermented wine "good" that the Cana wine was fermented because the Governor of the feast called it "good". This is contrary to all testimony, history or tradition in reference to Eastern customs, whether ancient or modern. In the east "good wine" is and always has been the fresh unfermented juice of the grape, and according to the degree of fermentation it is regarded as bad or worse. A correspondent of the Regina Journal answers the Courier's silly statements very convincingly. Our contemporary does not like to be told that it defends "the system of legalized drunkard making." Truth is always impalatable to those who are in the wrong. The Courier man should turn over a new leaf and go in for Prohibition and then there would be no possibility of hurting his feelings in that way.

Newsy Notes.

The Week's News Bolled down for Progress Readers.

Prince Bismarck is suffering from inflammation of the veins.

Crete is becoming quiet. Now only 3,000 insurgents are under arms.

It is estimated that the strike of London dockmen has already entailed a loss of $7,500,000.

Twenty negroes were shot and killed by white regulators the other day in Leake county, Miss.

A colliery explosion about ten miles from Edinburgh, Scotland, caused the death of 50 miners lately.

The experiment of firing torpedoes broadside and from the deck was tried at Kiel and pronounced a success.

Five thousand steel workers in Wales threaten to strike. They demand an advance of 10 per cent. in wages.

A rumor is current in Odessa that an alliance between Russia and France will be formally announced next spring.

Rev. Mr. Turner, an Episcopal clergyman from England, is in Winnipeg, where he proposes founding a home for boys.

Steps are being taken to form a new coke company in the Connells-ville, Pa., region, outside the monopolist companies.

A public reception was accorded to Rev. Dr. A. Sutherland in Toronto by the third party, of which he is the president.

The Paris Temps says that the French Government will ignore the demand of Gen. Boulanger to be tried by court-martial.

State Attorney Longenecker and some of the witnesses for the prosecution in the Cronin trial are under police protection in Chicago.

At the Labor Congress in Montreal a resolution was carried in favor of free school books and compulsory non-sectarian education.

The Turkish Ministry of War has ordered 100,000 Mauser repeating rifles to be ready in a month for distribution among the troops.

An explosion in a cartridge factory at Antwerp, Belgium, caused the death of 126 persons and the burning of a number of buildings.

Three French citizens have been expelled from Alsace-Lorraine on the charge of crossing the frontier to foment an anti-German agitation.

Lieut. Laurie, of the Royal Military College, Kingston, with the British troops in Egypt, is down with the small-pox at Assouan, but is recovering.

Warren Powers, a negro, was taken from jail by masked men and lynched, at East Point, Georgia, Wednesday night. He had assaulted a white girl.

The French Government has sent a circular to the bishops throughout the country warning them that all ecclesiastics taking part in the election will be vigorously proceeded against.

The Grand Trunk Railway traffic receipts for the week ending August 31st show a total of $425,283, as against $400,573 for the corresponding week last year, or an increase of $24,710.

The Railway Committee of the Privy Council will give to decision on the Toronto Esplanade question until after the Government Engineer has consulted with the engineers of the interested railways and the city of Toronto.

The Emperor of China has issued a decree ordering work to be begun on both ends of the proposed railway to Hankow.

It is pointed out that while the band of "A" Battery were refused permission to play for the Prentice Boys Benevolent organization unless in civilian dress, they were allowed to play in full uniform for a Roman Catholic Society on Wednesday.

The Dominion Government has now a first-rate chance of bringing the Behring Sea question to an issue. A charge of piracy on the high seas should be made against the quarter-master of the "Rush" who was placed on the "Pathfinder" as a prize crew and carried into Victoria.

There has been considerable activity in Canadian Pacific shares the last week and large profits have been secured to Canadian holders. Stock sold up 2½ per cent. in Montreal to 66 within a week. About the middle of March sales were made at 47. A week ago it sold in London at 64½ and on Saturday at 67½.

The race on the Thames for £1000, and the championship of the world over a course four miles and three furlongs, between Wm. O'Connor, champion oarsman of the United States and Canada, and Henry E. Searle, of Australia, on Monday, and was won by Searle. At Hammersmith Bridge, one mile and three-quarters from the start, Searle led by two lengths. He won by 6 lengths.

T. G. Shaughnessy, assistant-general manager of the Canadian Pacific railroad, has been appointed assistant president. He has left for England by way of New York, to contract for three steamers of 5,500 tons to steam 18 knots, for the Pacific Mail service to China and Japan. They are to be of the same model and design as the North German Lloyd steamer "Lahn," to cost a million apiece, and to be delivered at Vancouver in 18 months. President Van Horne, in an interview to-day, says that nothing short of universal disaster will prevent the company from earning $20,000,000 next year, $8,000,000 net, or equal to six per cent. on the capital. The government guarantee of three per cent. ends in 1893.

The civil war in Hayti, the black republic, is supposed to be at an end for the time, one of the pretenders to the Presidential office, General Legitime, the commander of the South, having been finally beaten and compelled to depart from Port Hayti, where he made his last stand. It appears from despatches that in this, as in the Samoan war, the foreign ministers encouraged one or other side, the American minister having supported Hippolyte apparently while the French minister was the adviser of Legitime. The fact that Legitime had departed in a French gunboat while the American admiral has advised his Government that the immediate appointment of a new minister is necessary, confirm the reports as to the mischief done by the representatives of the foreign powers. Hippolyte, who was supported by the United States, has triumphed, and it is to be hoped the United States will see its way to annex the island. There have been revolutions every few years since the Republic was established. If Hayti became an American territory the people would learn the art of self-government at much less cost.

A FACT WORTH REMEMBERING.

Mr. Jas. Binnie, of Toronto, states that his little baby when three months old was so bad with summer complaint that under doctors' treatment her life was despaired of. Four doses of Dr. Fox's Extract of Wild Strawberry cured her.

In New York City.

The Washington arch must be completed by the year 1892. The sum of about $50,000, which is yet needed for it, will surely be raised, but it ought to be in hand soon.

It is quite likely that a worthy statue of Christopher Columbus will be set up in this city before the opening of our International exposition of 1893, at which Columbus will be otherwise honored.

Signboards bearing Hebrew characters may frequently be seen in the business streets on the east side of the city, and are constantly increasing in number. Sometimes both Roman and Hebrew letters are painted on the same board.

The hundred thousand New Yorkers who are trying to keep cool at summer resorts by the sea-side and out in the woods and up among the mountains ought to be made aware of the fact that we are enjoying very tolerable July weather here. Even though they are away from us, there are still about 1,500,000 people left in the city.

The immigration from Italy to this port continues to be heavy, and almost every day of the week swarms of the sturdy children of the various Italian provinces may be seen at Castle Garden. All Americans who visit Castle Garden are surprised by the muscularity, solidity and strength of many of the olive complexioned Italian women who are to be seen there.—New York Sun.

A Remarkable Race Track Story.

The most remarkable accident that ever happened to a thoroughbred occurred yesterday morning at the fair grounds track. Among the horses out for exercise was F. R. Bissell's aged mare Concordia, by Concord, dam Mattie. She had an ugly temper, and a 140 pound boy was put up, with instructions to give her a good spin. Before going far she ran away, and when pulled up the boy dismounted and Willie Taylor, a 70 pound boy connected with the Chickasaw stable, essayed to take some of the temper out of her. He had no sooner mounted than the mare bolted and ran like a flash for the stable gate.

A half dozen men were standing at the gate, and she swerved toward the fence, breaking a post. The top rail, about sixteen feet long and six inches thick, cut away her right shoulder, passed through her abdomen, and came out under her right hip. She wheeled as the rail passed through her and walked about ten feet, when it fell out on the track. It was blunt on both ends, and passed entirely through the animal in the way described. She fell down after the rail had made its exit, arose again, and as her blood deluged the track, walked about twenty feet and dropped dead. The boy fell over her head and was not injured. The mare started in the first matinee this year, but was not placed.—St. Louis Republic.

How They Found the Keys.

The parties who burglarized the residence of Capt. Gift, in North Napa, on Saturday night played a very shrewd game. On Saturday they called at the house, and, saying that they wished to purchase just such a place, asked to be shown through the dwelling. Their request was complied with, and the persons who had been caring for the premises during the absence of Capt. Gift and family at San Jose took the pretended purchasers through every room. Noticing that one or two closets in one of the chambers were locked, they saying that an abundance of closet room was what they wished, expressed a desire to have these opened. The lady who was showing them through the house said the parties were away, and these closets were kept locked at their request. After some urging, the lady went to a bureau and from one of the drawers took a bunch of keys, and the closets were thrown open to the inspection of the strangers, who pretended to be entirely satisfied. Doubtless they were. That night they entered through one of the windows, went to the room aforementioned, took the keys from the drawer and rifled the trunks in the closet of many valuables.—Napa (Cal.) Register.

Groom Sick; Everything Else All Right.

Ira Strong and Miss Elva Nichols were to have been married at the bride's home last evening, but Strong was taken suddenly ill, and his physicians said the ceremony would have to be postponed. The bride expectant would not have it that way. About 7 o'clock last evening, accompanied by her parents and the Rev. Dr. Phillips and the bridesmaids, she repaired to her lover's home. The sick man was propped up in bed and in that position he and the brave young woman were married. After the ceremony the bride sought the physician and learned that her husband would undoubtedly recover. She then invited her friends and relatives to the home that Mr. Strong had prepared for her, and there the guests invited to the wedding were entertained for an hour or two, the bride explaining the absence of the groom and receiving the hearty good wishes for his speedy recovery. As soon as Mr. Strong is sufficiently recovered, he and his wife will take an extended wedding tour.—Detroit Cor. St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Remarkable Old Man.

The Rev. Dr. Edward Beecher easily carries off first honors as a grand old man. Where will you find another like him, who, at 86 years of age, can stand the shock of being run over by a railroad train, suffer amputation at the knee joint, and then, in a few weeks, get upon crutches and walk about as if nothing had happened? On the first Sunday of the month he assisted at the administration of the communion service in Plymouth church. He has resumed his ministrations for his Parkville congregation, and altogether the only effect his accident seems to have had is to curtail somewhat his pedestrian activity. He says he gets along all right on level ground, but finds it awkward work to get up or down steps. Such a hale and vigorous old gentlemanly and physically is a constant sermon in advocacy of right living.—Brooklyn Eagle.

What Is a Fire?

A curious point of law, bearing upon the responsibility of insurance companies, has just been decided in the Paris law courts (fifth chamber of the civil tribunal of the Seine), at the suit of the Countess Fitz-James vs. the Union Fire Insurance company, of Paris, by which it is ruled that insurance companies must indemnify all losses sustained by an insured caused by fire, even in cases where no destruction of premises has been caused by conflagration. The Countess Fitz-James insured against fire, in the above company, all her furniture and effects for 553,000 francs, and in her policy, under Art. 7, were mentioned her jewels, among which figured specially a pair of earrings, composed of five pearls, valued at 18,000 francs. On April 17, 1887, one of these earrings, which had been placed on the mantelpiece, was accidentally knocked down by the countess and fell into the fire, where it was consumed, notwithstanding every effort made to save the jewel.

Expert jewelers were called in by both parties to estimate the intrinsic value of the property destroyed, and 9,000 francs was stated to be the amount, less 60 francs for molten gold rescued from the ashes. The insurance company refused to pay for the burnt pearl on the ground that there was no conflagration, that the fire which consumed the object was an ordinary fire; in other words, that there was no fire, and that the company was not responsible where conflagration had only occurred by the ordinary use of a grate for heating purposes. The court, however, rejected this, and ruled that "the word fire, in matters of insurance, applied to every accident, however unimportant such accident may be, so long as it is caused by the action of fire." It was, therefore, ordered that the Union company should pay to the Countess Fitz-James the value of the jewel, less that of the gold recovered, viz., 8,940 francs and costs.—Irish Law Times.

Charles Sumner's Dutch Grandson.

The most variously attired of all the men of splendor is a grandson of the late Charles Sumner. He has clothes in apparently endless quantity and bewildering color. Everything is in harmony, too. For example, this morning he was in white flannel, with blue silk stockings, a blue silk tie, a blue silk hat band and a blue silk Turkish scarf. Last night he wore a tailless evening coat. Instead of a vest he wore, tied round his middle, a magnificent white silk sash that hung down on the side almost to the knees. The ends were magnificently embroidered. Some ladies with an eye for such things say that the embroidery alone must have cost him $50.

He is a hardy youth and trudges about valiantly even in the rain. His rainy day suit is a study in itself. A big sou'wester covers his head. His body is snugly incased in a heavy macintosh and his legs and feet are covered with rubber. He is accompanied in all his rambles by a magnificent mastiff that is as big as a Shetland pony and cost, it is said, $5,000. He is married and his wife has a fortune. He himself is comfortably fixed also. Clothes seem to be his only extravagance.—Spring Lake Cor. Philadelphia Press.

Across South America.

The Deutsche Bauzeitung gives some particulars in regard to the new railroad which is to cross the South American continent, from the Atlantic ocean at Buenos Ayres to the Pacific at Valparaiso. The greater part of the road has already been built, but the mountain section, about 150 miles long, between Mendoza, on the side of the Argentine republic, and Santa Rosa, on the Chile side, still remains to be completed. At Mendoza the elevation of the present road above the sea is about 2,500 feet, but in a length of 124 miles the new line ascends to a height of nearly 10,000 feet. The summit is formed by a tunnel about 7 miles long, from which a descent of 7,000 feet, in length of 32 miles, leads to Santa Rosa, where connection is made with the existing road to Valparaiso. It is expected that the line will be finished by the end of 1893, with the exception of the tunnel, which will take two years longer. During the construction of the tunnel, however, the road will be open for traffic, passengers and goods being transferred over the mountain.

A Great French Artist.

By the bye, Melsouier is married again. His wife having died some two years ago. She was remarkably plain, not to say ugly. He is just 74, and is famed for being the most ill tempered man in Europe, with the possible exception of Prince Bismarck. Nor is he pleasing to look upon, as he has the singular defect of possessing a massively proportioned head and torso, while his legs are shorter and thinner than those of a well made boy of 12. His head, with its full, long gray beard and profuse gray locks, is extremely picturesque. But he is by no means a blue-blooded to be courted, not only on account of the violence of his temper, but also because his pecuniary affairs are in a decided muddle and it is possible that his wife may not find herself provided for hereafter. For the days are past when, as the arrogant artist declared, apropos of his portrait of Mrs. Mackay, that "two straight lines, drawn by Melsouier and signed by him, constituted a work of art and one above criticism."—Paris Cor. St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

A New Smoke Consumer.

A new smoke consuming device, which is attracting the attention of cities and railroad companies, obtains, it is claimed, better results from two or three tons of coal than were formerly obtained from four or five tons. A jet of superheated steam of a temperature of over 600 degrees is introduced near the fire-grate. The oxygen seeks its natural affinity in the carbon of the coal, and causes it to burn at an intense white heat, so that it passes away as carbonic acid and not as carbonic oxide. The hydrogen liberated from the oxygen of the water combines with whatever loose oxygen it can find, and also burns at a white heat. There ceases to be any smoke, for the carbon is all consumed.—New York Telegram.

AN AMATI VIOLIN.

Once Sold for $35, Now the Sum of $15,000 Is Offered for It.

Mr. Frank Bell, a well known young man of this city, has in his possession a violin nearly three hundred years old, and which is believed on good authority to be a genuine Amati. About three years ago Mrs. Bell, who is a widow, and her family went to live in Richmond, Va. Frank went to one of the public schools of that city, and at home took lessons on the violin from a local teacher, a German musician, Professor Telow. As the lad progressed in his study he grew dissatisfied with his fiddle and decided to buy a better one. Talking it over with a schoolfellow, young James, that boy brought him of an old fiddle at home and offered to sell it to Frank. This was the famous Amati. The boy knew but little of the history of the fiddle, but when it was fitted with strings and keys the wonderful tones which the German professor evolved from it decided him that it was an extraordinary instrument, and he sold it to young Bell for what seemed to him a great figure—$35. By Professor Telow's advice the fiddle was sent to New York to a firm who make a specialty of repairs. In cleaning the inside of the violin they discovered a scrap of paper, yellow with age, on which was given in Italian the exact record of this Cremona.

"Do you know what you have got?" the New York firm wrote, and when the instrument had been thoroughly refitted and restrung the musical people in New York went crazy about it, and offering ranging from $100 up to $1,500 were made for it.

On its merits as a violin before returning it to Richmond, Professor White, of New York, and the late Professor Bouffette, of Washington, both well known artists, gave recital to a party of seventy or eighty musicians, in which the Cremona was tested for nearly four hours. The old violin discoursed to the musicians in tones mellowed by two and a half centuries of age. Amid plaudits they named it the "King Amati."

Then came offer after offer, and the fame of "The King Amati" crossed the ocean and the virtues heard of it. Signor Spigherino, of Rome, offered $2,000 for the violin, and after his death his son, who won celebrity as a violinist, made the offer $3,000. The latest bid made for the fiddle is by Wadsworth & Co., London, dealers in antiques and curiosities, who have the refusal at $15,000.—Montgomery (Ala.) Special.

And permeate our literature,
Our sciences and arts.
As strange a creature as I am,
One eye alone have I
And yet I see from another place

The Reward of Genius.

The young poet who thirsts for a fame that will reach beyond the safe bounds of his mother tongue should take warning from the following sample verses of Longfellow's
"Psalm of Life," as they are given in a French allusion.

Speak not to me in double rhymes.
Life is a reverse without sense, because
The soul is dead when she sleeps, and Things are not what they appear to us
Life is real. Life is serious; death
Is not its termination. "That, then, Returnest into dust." The word has Not been said for our work.

PRIVATE PARTY.

One of our citizens gave a private party to his friends at the Queen's hotel on Friday evening last. Everything was got up in excellent style and the entertainer said it was the best he had ever seen in this country. It is due to the Queen's to say that the following menu was prepared and served in a style to please the most fastidious taste:

SOUP.

Consommé à la Royal.

FISH.

B. C. Salmon, à la Hollandaise, BOILED.

Young Turkey, Oyster Sauce. Beef Tongue, Piquante Sauce. Sugar-cured Ham, Champagne Sauce.

ROAST.

Sirloin of Beef, au Jus. Haunch of Mutton, Red Currant Jelly. Domestic Duck with Apple Sauce.

ENTREES.

Fillets of Grouse, à la Financière. Beef Kidney, à la Maitre d'Hotel. Lamb Cutlets with Green Peas. Queen's Fritters, à la Rhum.

SALAD.

Dressed Celery. Lobsters Salad. Sliced Tomatoes.

PASTRY.

Apple Pie. Peach Pie. Lemon Pie. Raspberry Tart. English Plum Pudding, Brandy Sauce. Blanc Manger with Jelly. Sherry Wine Jelly. Coffee. Black Tea. Green Tea.

COLONIZATION.

Another effort is being made to advance this work and the neighborhood of Qu'Appelle has been chosen for carrying out the enterprise. In this case the object aimed at is to establish a series of farms, varying in size from 2000 to 3000 acres which will be primarily managed with a view to making these farms profitable and successful, so far as regards the use of capital upon the land. There is nothing especially new in this respect for many have made similar attempts and have not always succeeded. We fail to see any reason why this portion of the scheme should not command success. The land selected is known to be of thoroughly good quality and with proper capital to carry on these farms, men of experience ought to be able to make them commercially successful and largely profitable.

The second part of the project promises some distinctive features, for the Canadian Co-operative Colonization Company intend to select their workmen in England and Scotland and to pay them regular wages for one year and then pass them on to Government homesteads, on which they will be settled in groups so as to secure the advantages of mutual help and social intercourse. The company will naturally take care that they only send out good agricultural laborers and suitable tradesmen, and they will exercise a friendly care over them when they have located on their free homesteads. Professor Tanner and several of his colleagues are now visiting Canada for the purpose of organizing the arrangements for commencing work in the coming spring. The first centre of operations will be at Qu'Appelle and over 26,000 acres have been purchased for this purpose.
